Our K-12 outreaches are SO SWEET!

We have now delivered 21 kindergarten book+playset bundles, impacting 5 elementary schools and 420+ students!

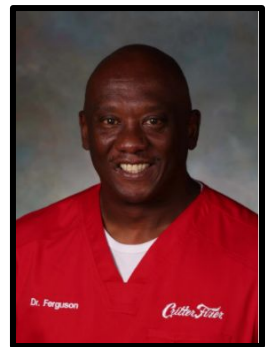

Middle schools are piloting UGA's "Dog Doctors" live presentation, along with hosting Dr. Ferguson (below) for a book talk in February!

High schools are participating in a pilot of ACT online training (below), providing free online content to any student interested in the field of veterinary medicine.

K-12 learners are enjoying visits from local therapy dog teams, thanks to Alliance of Therapy Dogs (below).

A few of our FAVORITES!

Dr. Terrence Ferguson is the co-author of "C is for Critter Fixer," one of the books donated to local kindergarten classes. He also has a Nat Geo Wild show, "Critter Fixers."

Animal Care Technologies offers online learning modules for all things veterinary, including kennel, grooming, reception, and vet assistant. High school students have access to these free modules.

Alliance of Therapy Dogs has 50 local teams, and many are excited to begin visiting our schools! The purpose is to simply spread joy through love of pets.

Thank you for making the future of veterinary medicine BRIGHTER in Augusta, Georgia!
